

Explanation for task-1

Used slides of lecture, which has pseudo code, I further code that in python

Explanation for task-2

In encoded each and every possibility which can happen, and gave it the probability mentioned in the problem statement.

As seen below one graph is decreasing with value, and other one increases with values, increasing graph is pretty linear behavior